Which BCom option should I choose?

Explore your career options and make decisions

Fast Track

Know yourself

Do career and values assessments to discover your strengths and values (2 hours)

Figure out your work priorities by making a career priorities table (1 hour)

Create a skills
inventory matrix to
link your past
experience to career
(1 hour)

I know my career priorities, values, skills, and motivators

Research your options

Read BCom
course
descriptions
(2 hours)

Read the Firsthand career guides about options you are considering (2 hours)

Watch interviews
with UBC Sauder
students to hear
how they chose
their option (30
minutes)

I've researched my options

Talk to people in your option

Attend UBC Sauder networking events, conferences, and student club socials

(5+ hours)

Get to know organizations at on-campus company information sessions (5+ hours)

information
meetings with professors, senior
students, and alumni
in your option
(5+ hours)

I've talked to people about my option

Feel confident about your choice

It's normal to feel unsure. You will change more than
you think, and the
world will change
more too. There's a good chance that jobs
you will have in the future don't
exist today

Each option has options! There are a wide variety of jobs related to each option. Your career will likely span many types of jobs and industries

Your option is only 5 of 40 BCom courses. No matter what, you will graduate with a BCom degree, which gives you many career opportunities

I'm confident about my option choice

Already know which option you want to choose?

Make sure that you have the correct pre-requisite courses for your option and that you meet the GPA cut-off

Look into

UBC Sauder training

and mentorship

programs and
student clubs and
events in your
option

Continue to develop
your network
by scheduling
information
meetings with senior
students and alumni
in your option

Choose your option this summer!

Lost, unsure, or uncertain?

Visit COOL to book a career coaching appointment with the BCC to get personalized help.

